Vote Approved On Civic Complex

Before Canyon city commissioners enter into a contract for construction of a new $1.2 million civic center, they will call an election for local voters to say yes or no to the project.

Commissioners Tuesday night adopted a resolution presented them in petition form by a group of local residents who sought the plebiscite.

The resolution was adopted without comment on a motion from Commissioner J. Pat Stephens.

Petitions containing the resolution were turned in to City Clerk Bob Moore last week with 238 names attached. Moore told commissioners 203 names on the petitions were valid, more than enough to justify commission consideration.

The resolution adopted Tuesday night and embodied in the petitions states that the complex cannot be constructed unless voters approve the project.

City Manager George Louder said the commission has within 30 days to call the election. He said he expects commissioners to call the election some time after April 15 when architects for the complex project are due to make a final presentation and cost estimate to commissioners.

The resolution passed by commissioners as proposed in the petitions reads:

"Be it resolved, that prior to the time the City of Canyon, Texas, shall enter into a contract for the construction of a city office complex consisting of general offices, city commission chambers, areas for city police, and fire departments and any other facilities, that a referendum be submitted to the qualified electors of the City of Canyon, Texas, for approval or disapproval of the construction of said office complex; and

"Be it further resolved, that no contract shall be entered into for the construction of said office complex unless the construction of said office complex is approved by a majority of the qualified electors of the City of Canyon, Texas, voting in said referendum."

An initial petition which called for a vote on the issue was rejected several weeks ago by commissioners on the advice of City Atty. Elton Cox, who said the petitions were not prepared in a legal fashion.

Mrs. Mary Parker, local businesswoman, was leader of the petition effort. She was present at Tuesday night's meeting, but made no comments.

Mrs. C.S. Thompson, who used the complex construction as a campaign issue, was defeated in her bid for a seat on the city commission in Tuesday balloting.

In other action Tuesday night, commissioners approved a grant request for continued operation of the Metro Intelligence Unit.

The city became the fourth and final government (See VOTE, page 5)

A voter goes into the Canyon community center early Tuesday before balloting in the city election. The community center will be the focal point of election activity again

Saturday when local residents cast ballots in the School Board, County Board of School Trustees and board of the South Randall County Hospital District elections.

Largest, 'Most Important'

Hunsley Plat Makes City History

A plat for development of Hunsley Hills, possibly the largest plat filed in city history and one which officials say may have the largest impact on the city's future, will be given initial consideration tonight by the city planning and zoning commission.

Commissioners meet at 7 p.m. at the community center to talk with Developer A.W. Lair and review the plat, which calls for more than 600 lots to be developed over the next few years.

Tonight's discussion of the plat is the first step in an approval process which will lead to further development of the Hunsley Hills area north of the Palo Duro Creek but south of Hunsley Road between the VFW Road and U.S. 87.

City Manager George Louder, who's spent many hours since receiving the plat planning water and sewer line routes, said the plat filed by Lair may be the most important filed in city history, also.

"It's probably the most important because of its size but also because it represents a different shift in the growth pattern Canyon's been following in recent years," Louder said.

Canyon has been growing primarily to the south and east in recent years with only limited growth to the north. Louder has said recently that growth to the east and south may be somewhat stymied by new federal regulations which virtually prohibit construction in flood plain areas. Canyon is bounded to the south by Tierra Blanca Creek and the creek curves northward just southeast of the city.

"This (plat) represents 600 plus lots and it changes our growth pattern radically," Louder said. "It means changes in some of our concepts and our thinking here, too."

Of primary concern to Louder now is long-range planning for providing city services such as water and sewer services to the area which lies within the plat but also to another section owned by Lair to the north of the plat area.

To enhance Louder's planning problem for the future is the fact that along with the planned growth of Lair's development will come other residential and commercial growth which must also be planned for.

"Any development this size is going to effect commercial, residential and traffic," Louder said. "A plat of this magnitude or of any magnitude involves far more than first meets the eye."

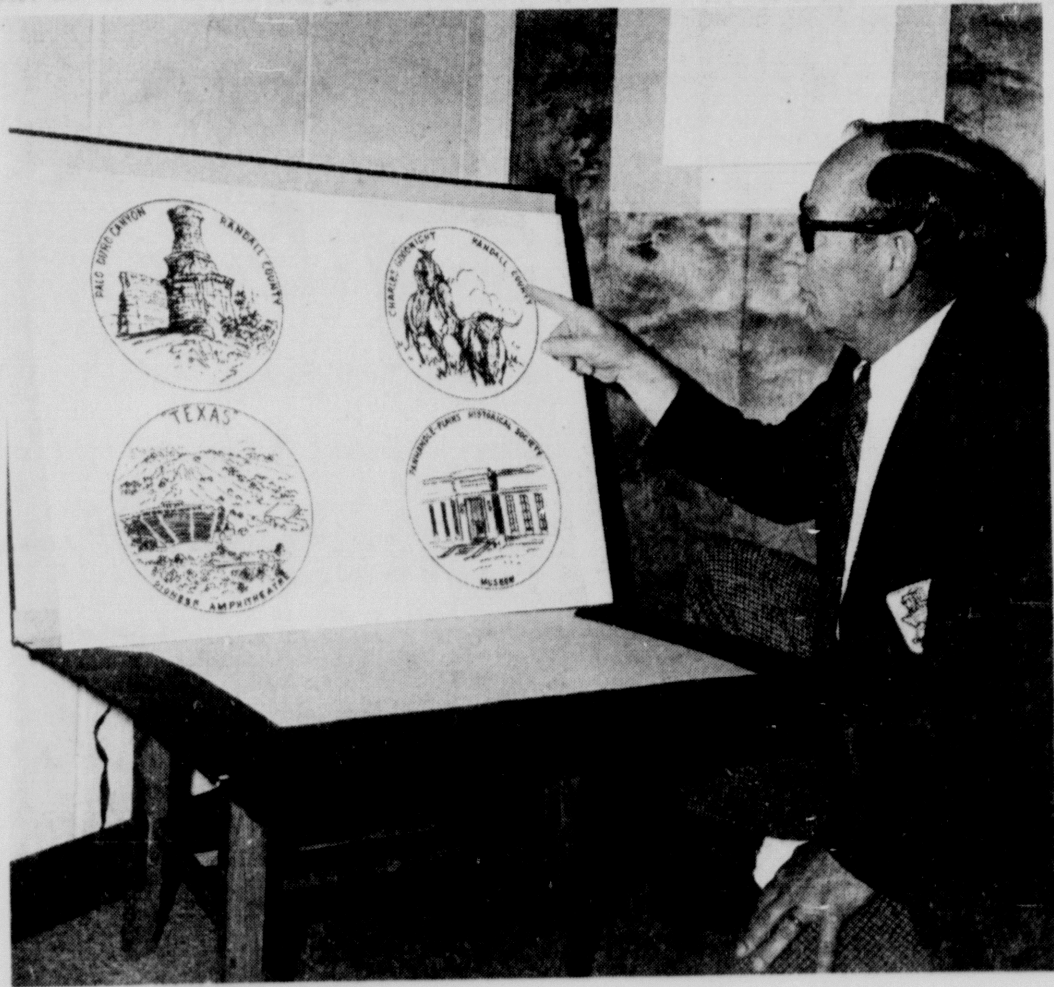

Besides planning for the more obvious services such as water and sewer service, the city must also plan for future traffic patterns.

Louder said the Hunsley plat will also impact on planning for future schools, for church growth and for other business factors.

Lair has already asked the city to annex the property and Canyon School Board members decided Tuesday night to begin studies on future school needs in the Hunsley area.

Louder said the growth of the area will not have an immediate financial impact on the city's coffers. Fire and police protection, he said, will be adequate for some

Chamber of Commerce Manager Roland Black examines more closely four potential designs by Canyon Artist Jim Ward for use on a commemorative coin the chamber will have minted for public sale in the early summer. Ward's proposals and other proposals are still under consideration for use on the coins.

Commemorative Coins To Be Issued By CofC

Commemorative coins depicting Randall County and which could develop into a series culminating in 1976 will be issued this summer by the Canyon Chamber of Commerce.

Chamber directors voted Monday night to issue the coins and examined four sketches for the coin designs by local Artist Jim Ward.

Fewer than 2000 gold plated, fine silver and bronze coins will be minted for sale by the chamber.

Chamber President John Childs said he hopes the coins will be ready for sale by the opening of the annual Canyon Days Celebration in late June.

Chamber of Commerce members will be given first chance to purchase the coins although an auction for gold plated numbered coins will be held in conjunction with the Canyon Days festivities.

Only 50 gold plated coins will be minted for the Chamber along with 200 .999 fine silver coins. The remainder of the minting will involve bronze coins and gold, silver and bronze sets.

Chamber directors were unable Monday night to decide on designs for the front and back sides of the coins, but did agree that one side of the coin should depict a scene which would be repeated on each series issued. Only the back side would have a changing scene.

Artist Ward presented four possible designs. One was of the Palo Duro Canyon lighthouse rock formation. Another was the Palo Duro Amphitheatre which is the scene during summer months for the musical-drama "TEXAS." Another was the front of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum and the other was a cowboy on horseback with a longhorn steer.

Directors initially voted Monday night to use the cowboy and steer scene as the continuing scene for one side of the coin. Later, they changed their minds and instructed Childs to contact Ward for further ideas.

In presenting the idea to directors, Childs cited Tulsa's recent experience at minting commemorative coins and said the coins would provide a service as well as raise some money for the chamber.

In other business, directors instructed Childs to invite a representative of McCormick Advertising in Amarillo to meet with the board at a May meeting to discuss an advertising campaign for the city.

Childs said cost of the campaign could be between $5000 and $7000.

Director Jim Brown said Don Hileman, director of the Amarillo

WT Not Recommended For Weather Research

The Texas Water Development Board has recommended a site near Big Spring rather than near Canyon for possible location of a weather modification research station, a West Texas State University dean said this week.

Dr. David Wheeler, dean of the graduate school, said a recent letter from Archie Kahan of the Bureau of Reclamation indicates the university may be out of the running for the full research effort.

But, he said the letter indicates WTSU's facilities might be used for peripheral research in the overall project.

The university had sought to have the Canyon area designated as research site for the weather modification project as a part of its effort to emphasize water resource research.

"Though the Texas Water Development Board has recommended the general geographical area near Big Spring as the primary site for weather modification field research," Kahan's letter states, "the capabilities of the Killgore Research Center at West Texas State University could be considered to conduct part of the comprehensive research."

The TWDB recommendation is not binding on the Bureau of Reclamation decision as to where to locate the research station. The Bureau is eyeing several possible sites in the Great Plains area.

"They must have been kind of impressed with the Killgore," Wheeler said. "I wrote them another letter saying we're willing to cooperate in any way we can and emphasizing our interest in any matters on water research."

Wheeler said the Kahan letter leaves the avenue open for future possible use of WTSU facilities in the project.

Kahan says more detailed plans for the research effort will be forthcoming later this spring and WTSU officials will be contacted.

The Bureau's plans call for intensive and fairly long-term research on the effects of cloud seeding on atmospheric changes (See NOT, page 5)

Re-elected Incumbents Say City Hall Not Factor

Incumbents Jim Christopher and H.R. Fulton Jr., re-elected Tuesday by a 2-1 margin over opponents, said following the election they don't feel their victories were indicative of support for construction of a new $1.2 million civic center complex.

Christopher and Fulton, although admitting the vote was a vote of confidence for them personally, separated their election from the most important issue in the campaign prior to the election — the construction of the new city hall.

Asked whether he considered his re-election a vote of approval for construction of the complex, Christopher said "I don't read that into it at all."

Christopher said the complex issue was separate from the campaign he and Fulton ran to be re-elected.

"I think the people understood they were going to get a vote on it (the construction)," he said.

He and Fulton agreed "we'll try to show the people we deserve their votes and will continue to do the job as we've done it previously."

Christopher was re-elected in Tuesday's balloting with a vote of 484. His opponent, Mrs. C.S. Thompson tallied 200 votes in the election.

Fulton received 469 votes to be re-elected while his opponent, Charles Sykes, received 191 votes.

Three More Elections Due Sat.

Canyon residents, fresh from balloting in Tuesday's city election, will have a chance to vote in three more elections Saturday.

One of the elections set for Saturday has a contested race.

Incumbents will seek re-election to the Canyon School Board, and the County Board of School Trustees without opposition.

Two Treasurer Candidates Differ On Need For And Use Of Office

Editor's Note: The following is the second in a series of articles to be published by The News prior to the May primary elections. The articles deal with interviews with candidates facing opposition in the primary elections. Candidates not facing May opposition will be interviewed prior to the November elections.

The very existence of the Randall County treasurer's office is the key campaign issue in the race between two candidates for the office on the Democratic ballot in the May primary.

Mrs. Fern Patterson believes the office is necessary and needed. Bob McClendon believes the office is antiquated and should be abolished.

McClendon and Mrs. Patterson are Democratic contenders to appear on the ballot in the November general elections. The winner of their May primary race will face Mrs.

Marty Schantz, a Republican, who is running alone on the GOP primary ballot.

McClendon vowed this week his key campaign issue will be a promise to work for abolishment of the county treasurer's office if elected.

Mrs. Patterson said she sees a need for the office. "Somebody has to handle all that money," Mrs. Patterson said. "Who'd do it? The auditor is an appointed office and I'm not for them moving these responsibilities to that office."

Mrs. Patterson said if any office should be abolished as unneeded it should be the auditor's office rather than the treasurer's office. She said she favors having an elected official handle the county's money rather than an appointed official. Currently, the county treasurer is elected and the auditor is appointed by the district judge.

Mrs. Patterson noted that if both offices were combined, two persons would still be needed to do the jobs.

Mrs. Patterson said she is thoroughly familiar with the workings of the treasurer's office. She was employed in the county tax office a number of years and also handled a similar job at West Texas State University, she said. In addition, her mother was treasurer of Roberts County for more than 20 years.

McClendon, an Amarillo attorney who at one time was an assistant district attorney for Randall County, said he would try to abolish the office if elected.

"The office is and has been for a number of years really kind of antiquated," he said. "It's unnecessary to have it any longer."

"The duties of the treasurer can be performed in about a half a day per month if one is real efficient."

"I'm prepared to lobby with the legislature to try to get it abolished and have it abolished or merged with the county auditor's office."

McClendon said the about $600 per month salary paid the treasurer could better be spent by upgrading some other salaries of courthouse employees.

"It's ridiculous to pay that kind of money for a half day work a month," he said.

McClendon said his tenure in the courthouse as assistant dis- (See DIFFER, page 5)

FROM THE CANYON RIM

I have just read Merle Miller's Plain Speaking, the story of Harry Truman.

I'm actually sorry I read it. It does the memory of the late President no honor. I have always admired Harry Truman because he was a fighter.

He made some tough decisions but he stood short on some equally tough decisions for the want of which our children and our children's children will suffer immeasurably.

He dropped the bomb at Hiroshima and Nagasaki. Detractors argue that actual dropping of the hell bomb was not necessary. They say a demonstration bomb could have been dropped in full view of Tokyo with the same results. I doubt this. Even after Hiroshima was demolished by the Enola Gay that August morning in 1945, Hirohito and his ministers vacillated. Only devastation of Nagasaki forced them to act.

Detractors also contend that the emperor should have been told where the bomb would be dropped and given a chance to evacuate the people. History of Japan's mode of conducting war indicates two things would have happened.

Every fighter plane in the imperial islands would have been mustered to the target and every allied prisoner held by the Japanese would have been placed in the area of jeopardy.

Hindsight is always better than foresight but I'd say in light of history, Truman probably did right in dropping the bomb as he did. Anyway it was a cold military decision and he made it and as far as I'm concerned that's it.

Harry Truman stood short on some even greater decisions that weigh him in the balance of history and find him wanting.

Many later decisions upon which friends base his claim to greatness would have been unnecessary if he had bitten the bullet.

If he had possessed the wisdom and courage to use the power America held at the end of World War II, there would have been no Korea and no Vietnam.

We promised Eastern Europe freedom and justice but instead we delivered them up to a dictatorship that made Hitler appear benign.

World War II began when Poland was invaded but Harry Truman seems to have forgotten that. He actually handed Poland over to Russia — a co-partitioner along with Germany. Without Russia's full participation, Hitler could not have launched his eastern blitzkrieg in the first place.

The sickening thing about it is that Truman didn't have to do it. HE HAD THE BOMB! He could have enforced a pax Americana that would at least have given Eastern Europe a chance at self determination.

Those little countries, the blood of which runs warm in the veins of most of us, never had that chance. Truman was heroic in his commitment to Israel but what a greater debt we owed to little Czechoslovakia, Poland, Romania, Hungary, Albania, Lithuania, Latvia and Estonia, still enshrouded in nightmare after more than three decades.

Harry Truman could have kept our faith with these people, our kinsmen, and HE DIDN'T DO IT.

I knew this before I read Plain Speaking and I guess I forgave it but it came back like a bone in the throat when I saw in the book that he had put the S.O.B. label on men like Douglas MacArthur and Dwight Eisenhower.

I'll grant you that MacArthur was arrogant but that is the demeanor almost universally of men whose duty forces them to exercise life or death control over people around them be they military men or men of medicine. If either of these professionals falter it spells death to those who depend on them. They must exude confidence which is often mistaken for arrogance.

In the book Truman refers to both MacArthur and Eisenhower as "dumb."

For those who might read the book and take Truman's assessment at face value, let me point out that Douglas MacArthur was military governor of Japan in the years following World War II and whatever stability is found in the Far East today can largely be credited to the work of the general. HE WAS THE ONLY MAN OF STATURE IN AMERICA AT THE TIME WITH SO MUCH AS A SMIDGEN OF KNOWLEDGE ABOUT THE ORIENT.

He deserved to be fired in Korea for bucking his commander-in-chief but dumb he was not.

Eisenhower, referred to in the book as "that fella who succeeded me," could have been in Berlin long before the Russians. Truman made him hold back.

There need have been no divided control of the German capitol, hence no necessity for one of Truman's "great decisions" the Berlin airlift and there need never have been a Berlin Wall.

As a result of Truman's decision not to meet the Russians as far east as possible, the women of Berlin were raped in the streets by rampaging Russian troops. And it just doesn't make sense to have let it happen that way. Thirty years later I keep asking Why? Why?

I might also point out that "that fella who succeeded him" kept the peace, the only eight years of peace America has enjoyed since 1945.

I am sorry for these aspersions cast on men of honor who served their country so well. In spite of it all, I still admire Harry Truman, a Missouri farm boy who made a better President than most of us expected and not as good a President as he could have.

Mrs. Ray Ruffin and their public relations gal, Kathryn Richards, were in Canyon Monday.

Mrs. Ruffin is a beautiful, naive woman who is absolutely dedicated to sending her husband to Congress.

She was chagrined when I told her she is actually working her head off and her husband is spending time and money for a chance to take their family into the cess pool of the world. Washington, DC, has more corruption per square yard than any other real estate on the face of the earth.

Mrs. Ruffin, obviously a religious young woman, furrowed her brow and sat on the edge of her chair when I told her that a congressman is given every opportunity imaginable to compromise himself.

If you want to investigate further, read Bob Winterberger's "Washington Payoff." Winterberger, a self-admitted Washington fixer, said he was working out of the office of Jerry Ford and John McCormack at the same time. Ford was minority leader for the GOP and McCormack, a Democrat, was speaker of the House.

I can promise Mrs. Ruffin that if her husband wins and stays in Washington for three terms the wrinkles will be permanently etched and her smile may not be as spontaneous as it is now.

Miss Richards is a charming young pro from North Carolina where she was a page in the legislature at the age of 12. She has worked on some biggies including the Shriver campaign of 1972.

I predict that she has a brilliant future in the public relations business if that is what she elects to continue.

Tax Values Concern County Leaders

A major effort to revalue all property in Randall County for tax purposes emerged as a possibility following commissioners' court Monday.

Commissioners discussed in oblique terms during their regular session the need for a study of the tax structure of the county.

Following the meeting, County Judge Woody Pond said commissioners at their next Monday's meeting will discuss the possibility of a major revaluation of property within the county.

Pond said inflation and the high cost of real estate deal in the commission desire to re-examine the values placed on property in relation to the fair market value of the property.

Pond said total revaluation of property is only one alternative open to the commissioners. They might also, he said, appoint a study committee to examine the tax structure of the county and make recommendations.

He said, too, the commissioners might bring in an outside firm to perform a revaluation.

Last revaluation of property in the county was accomplished more than a decade ago and a recent News survey of property values as set by the county and the school district tax offices pointed up major differences.

During regular session Monday, commissioners also discussed the possible ramifications of a proposed constitutional section now being eyed by delegates to the state constitutional convention which would make the county the central property valuation agent in a county.

All other governmental entities within the county would use the county's set valuation to figure taxes.

Commissioners noted that the provision would place additional responsibility and burdens on the county tax office.

In other business, commissioners met with W. C. Roberts, developer of several subdivisions in Randall County. Roberts asked commissioners to reconsider their new road construction policies for developments. He noted particularly that the requirement that curb and gutter be laid for developments with small front footage placed an unbearable burden on the developer particularly if most of the land within his development has already been sold.

Using his own development as an example, Roberts said it would be impossible for him to return to persons who'd purchased land in his development and ask them for additional money to provide curb and gutter for their streets.

Commissioners also approved a resolution providing for elections during the next year. They

Growth To Be Eyed By Schools Here

By JIM ROGERS

"We need help, we are in trouble today," stated Jerry Jacobs, Superintendent of Canyon Independent School District, as he addressed developers from Hunsley Hills and Panhandle Savings and Loan at the Canyon School Board meeting Tuesday night.

Jacobs spoke concerning the population growth of Canyon and the large number of students already enrolled in Canyon's school district. Jacobs presented estimated enrollment for the next six years but stated that it was probably low.

Representatives of Hunsley Hills and Panhandle Savings and Loan were present at this monthly meeting of the school board to present their plans for development both presently and in the future. Hunsley Hills and the development by Panhandle Savings and Loan will both be planned communities with a market value in excess of $50 million each.

According to developers at Hunsley Hills, most of the people buying homes in their planned community are from out of town. Children live in all but one of the homes that have been sold. Developers stated that as multifamily apartments and townhouses are built in unit two, more young families with children will be moving to this area.

The developers presented a plat showing their plans for recreation facilities, homes, and schools. They also stated that they would be willing to work with the Canyon School District in locating schools in their development.

A. W. Lair, developer of Hunsley Hills, said that Canyon has a greater potential for growth now than ever before. He stated that with the possibility of "clean industry" coming to Canyon growth will continue. Lair projected that within five years Canyon will be a town of 15,000 people.

Panhandle Savings and Loan representatives Wilton White and Dick Stromatt presented a plat to the board showing their future planned community. Their total planned community will be divided into two units. These two units will cover 300 acres of land with 975 homes, 250 three-unit apartments and 20 acres of retail and commercial establishments. They projected a total population of 4,037 for their planned community.

In other business to come before the board, C. R. Cantrell, architect for the vocational building, reported that progress on the building had been hampered by a steel product used on the roof that had not been delivered. Cantrell stated that he felt sure that the building would be finished by the completion date, August 1.

The Equalization Board told the board that the present tax evaluation is within 40.4 per cent of market value on rural property and within 69.22 per cent in the urban area.

Because of the developments at the Texas Constitutional Convention concerning unified appraisal values, the Equalization Board advised that at this time it would not be wise to make a new appraisal.

In other business, John Childs, president of the Canyon Chamber of Commerce, addressed the board concerning the growth and future of Canyon. He stated that agriculture in the area had doubled, tourism has grown, West Texas State University and the good public school system along with enough water for future needs makes the Canyon area future bright.

Jacobs presented members of the board with a copy of a letter received from Ron Clower, State Senator District 9, commending the Canyon School district for "... having the foresight to develop innovative programs which the State of Texas has considered exemplary of quality educational services to our children."

GREETINGS, FROM OUT UMBARGER way.

WE HAVE OUR garden underway. For the first time in our many years of gardening, we planted Irish potatoes. Then on Monday, we put out a nice strawberry bed. We hope we will have sufficient moisture for our gardens and crops this year.

Maybe it's time we did a little more than "think rain." Maybe we need to get down on the old "prayer bones" and ask for rain. Sure couldn't hurt anything.

IN THE RANDALL County 4-H food show, held last Saturday in Canyon, the Umbarger 4-H club members brought home a few first places. Diana Adams won first place in side dishes and Janet Wilhelm won first place in the main dishes in the senior division. In the junior division, Kathy Adams won first place in main dishes. The winners will participate in the district food show, which will be held in Amarillo on Saturday.

OTHER UMBARGER 4-H Club members who entered the show were Karen, Debra, and Linda Hartman, Judy Wilhelm and Doris and Mikel Grabber. Our congratulations to all the participants.

TOM AND LINDA Heese and daughter Rachel, from Austin, are visiting Linda's parents, the John Wiecks and other relatives this week. Tom is on Easter vacation from the University of Texas.

CLARENCE BECKMAN AND the Charley Beckman's have had guests the past week from Elgin, Ill. Mrs. Pauline Beckman and her son, David, flew in on March 25. On Saturday, the Charley Beckman's took them and Clarence up to Dalhart to visit with Kelly Beckman and the Melvin Prizlas. Last Sunday, Clarence took them to Vega, for a barbecue at the home of Bob and Elizabeth Brockman. Mrs. Frances Heese came from Amarillo to visit with them while they were here. The visitors left for home last Monday.

DON'T FORGET THE art show and Easter egg hunt, to be held on Sunday, April 21. There will be first, second and third prizes offered in each classification and any form of art will be acceptable. Prizes will also be given in each division in the egg hunt, through the sixth grade.

IT WAS NICE to see Mrs. W. P. Janssen at Mass last Sunday. She has been confined to her home for several weeks following surgery.

WT Tracksters In Sat. Meet

West Texas State University's track squad competes Saturday afternoon at Lubbock in a four-way meet with Texas Tech, Baylor and New Mexico State.

The Buffaloes, competing without ace weightman Dennis Briggs, placed third in a triangular meet here Saturday with Eastern New Mexico University and Colorado State University. ENMU and Colorado State tied for first place with 66 points, while West Texas totaled 47 points.

Briggs missed Saturday's meet because his father-in-law had died Friday in Seminole. He will be ready to throw Saturday at Lubbock.

The Buffaloes recorded some of their season's better times in Saturday's meet, despite high winds which hindered races around the track.

Paducah freshman Alvis Wright had his season's bests with 9.3 in the 100-yard dash and a 21.8 in the 220. Larry Marlar, Pampa freshman, had his best 440 of the season — 49.8.

Dave Karila, another Buffalo freshman, recorded a 1:57.0 in the 880. That was the top time of the season for the Thunder Bay, Ont., athlete.

The Buffaloes, with Bert Carter running in the second leg in place of injured Wayne Cure, ran a 41.9 in the 440-yard relay. Odessa freshman Terry Penn ran 14.2 in the 120-yard high hurdles for his best of the season. His best as a high schooler was How early can you get a herbicide on sorghum?

You can get Milogard® herbicide on about as early as you can put a tractor in the field.

Preplant Milogard with or without your liquid fertilizer or put it on any time thereafter until just before the sorghum and weeds come ...

... which means the weeds die early, before they start taking soil moisture and nutrients that should go to the growing sorghum.

We recommend it. The earlier the better — as early as two to four weeks before planting. Or later. Milogard kills weeds any time in the preemergence period. Fit it to your schedule. But call in your order now.

HAPPY JAYCEES WILL play the KDJW Triple Players a game of basketball in a Crusade for Cancer tonight, April 4, at the Happy gym. All admission, (two dollars each) will be contributed to cancer. All children under twelve will be admitted free.

DURING THE HALF

Polls for all three elections open at 7 a.m. and close at 7 p.m. Saturday.

Balloting for the hospital board election will be at the Canyon community center only while balloting for the other two elections will be at Gene Howe School and at the community center.

Four persons cast absentee ballots for the school board election but no persons cast absentee votes in either the hospital board or county school trustee elections.

In the school board election, incumbents Tom Keeling, Ed Wieck and Roscoe Richardson seek re-election unopposed.

Cummings challenged Raymond Batenhorst, Floyd Tomlinson and Mrs. Nolon Henson for a place on the hospital board. The three persons with the most votes win seats on the board.

Directors also voted to donate $100 to Operation Face-lift, a project to beautify the West Texas State University campus.

Following acceptance of the plat, the city will become actively involved as coordinator of water and sewer installation.

While the developer must pay for construction of streets, the city will pay for intersections, under the current policy.

And, while the developer must pay for installation of water and sewer lines, the city must also become involved in writing specifications of the lines, Louder said.

"From a planning and coordination standpoint this plat will occupy lots of our time," he said. "We're not staffed to handle every year a project of this size."

In terms of long-range planning, Louder must begin eyeing the effect development of the 600 lots will have on the city's water supply and future water supply needs.

He said the current city sewer plant is well able to handle the new lots.

"Fire protection is adequate for a number of years but police protection we just don't know," he said.

Louder said the final plat should be approved some time this spring along with annexation of the property into the city.

THE GIRLS OF the class of 1969 are having a reunion on Saturday, April 6, at Susan Rahlfs.

MARY ANN SIMS was crowned Lions' Queen on Friday evening at the Vivian Wesley School Auditorium. She was crowned by the retiring queen, Karen Murdock. Mary Ann is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Sims. First runner-up was Cathy Parker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs.

Foster Parker. Four out-of-town judges picked the winners. Bill Looney was master of ceremonies for the evening. Other girls participating in the activities were Connie Hand, Jan Whitlow, Brenda Dietz, Pam Andrews, Debbie McCarley, Judy Smith, Estella Flores, Johnnie Wilson, and Colette McCarley. All these girls had lunch with the Lions Club on Tuesday of last week.

who ran unopposed on the ballot, drew 530 votes.

A total of 679 votes were cast Tuesday and five votes were cast absentee.

The number was well above the 500 who voted in last year's city race and well above the figures for voting in elections during the past 10 years. A 1970 race drew more than 1000 voters to the polls.

About 5000 persons are eligible to vote in Canyon.

City Clerk Bob Moore attributed the light turnout Tuesday in part to the foul weather which saw winds rise to the 70 miles per hour level through the afternoon. Blowing dust and scattered light rain-fall may also have hampered voting.

Voting during the day Tuesday was steady at the community center. Only 30 minutes after the polls opened, 27 persons had voted. Nearly 150 persons had voted by noon and another 150 had voted by 3 p.m. More than 200 persons voted after 5 p.m.

More than a dozen write-in votes were cast in the mayoral election with Mary Parker, leader of a petition effort to have a citizen vote on construction of the civic center, receiving several write-ins.

Easter Seal Support Sought From Locals

A further request for support of the Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults and its program of services to the handicapped was issued today by David West who is Easter Seal Representative in Randall County.

The Easter Seal Society provided treatment and services for 20,570 physically handicapped children and adults in Texas last year, West said, and this program needs to be expanded.

Many people are going without services that would increase the productivity of their lives and make them happier. With the increased growth of the Easter Seal Society, more and more of these people will be reached, he added.

The Society is carrying out a continuing program to seek out the disabled who are doing without services and see that they receive the help they need. As Easter Seal Representative, West is the person to contact for services from the Easter Seal Society.

The Easter Seal Appeal continues through Easter April 14, and full support should be given the Easter Seal Society by every citizen, he added.

People Relationship Describes Seminar

"It is a people relationship." This is the way Dr. Jack Nance, coordinator of Human Relations Studies, Department of Secondary and Higher Education at West Texas State University, describes the Multi-Culture Education Seminar that is now underway at the PESO Education Service Center in Amarillo.

According to Dr. Nance, this is a new course and is designed to assist teachers and administrators to plan, organize and develop materials for classes of varying cultures.

The participants in this study will be able to assess the needs of students in a multi-cultural classroom. This includes the students background of ancestry and the present family situation. They also will be trained to make use of materials already available in the classroom as well as produce new materials for particular classes, according to Nance.

Participants will be trained to make slide/film and other audio-visual aids to encourage multi-cultural learning. According to Nance, varying cultures are to be integrated into a systematic teaching approach. Participants are to be able to plan lessons and determine if they are successful in the classroom.

Nance points out any class room can be a multi-cultural classroom. He states that one does not need a percentage of white, black, and brown to be multi-cultural. According to Nance any classroom of only one race and one nationality can be multi-cultural. Nance emphasizes that all children have a different way of life.

Participants are taught to use available materials in this new approach. They are also challenged to be creative and innovative in presenting the material, according to Nance. Nance stated that teachers are to be open to feedback from students to assist in preparing new materials. This course is designed to assist the teacher in planning an approach needed in each class. The teacher will revise planning each year to meet the needs of the individual class, according to Nance.

Nance states that the logical approach to teaching multi-cultural classes is by an integration of multi-cultural materials. He points out that a "Black Week" or "Chicano Week" is not always enough to fully inform students of contribution made by the various groups.

"If a young person cannot tolerate the difference between himself and another of his own race and nationality, how can he tolerate those of another race or nationality?" questions Nance.

This course is offered on a first come, first served basis, according to Nance. Tuition fees are paid and all materials used in the seminar will be furnished.

Visiting consultants and specialists are used to bring in new and fresh ideas, according to Nance. He states, "This is the real benefit of the course."

Teachers and administrators are participating in the class that

Cast Your Vote

By TROYCE MULHERIN
TIME - TO - VOTE -
GREETINGS:

THIS SATURDAY, THE 6th, is the day to go to Gene Howe School and cast your ballot in the county trustee and school board election. As usual, the polls will be open from seven to eleven.

SATURDAY, APRIL 20, is set for the city election. And, the primary election is set for Saturday, May 4. Each voter must be registered at least 30 days before election day in order to be eligible to cast a ballot. If you need to attend to this big little matter, do so soon.

THE LOVELY CINDY Capps joined with the other two fifth grade teachers recently honored by the Campfire Girls with the designation of being chosen as a "Teacher of the Day."

LEFTOVERS: THERE ARE several pie tins, etc. still at the school, same being utilized during the chili supper. There are also two Hi-Fri Automatic cookers which want to go home. These items are in the PTA cabinets in the supplies room at Gene Howe. Those wanting to retrieve their property can ask for same at the office, if you don't know where the PTA cabinets are. O.K.? Almost time for Easter company cooking, so many of these items will probably be needed at home.

REMEMBER: EASTER HOLIDAYS for our youngsters will run from the 6th through the 15th. Back to school for the learning set on Tuesday, the 16th.

LAST SATURDAY WAS party time in Gene Howe land. A multitude of Betty Dozier's friends came to Kay Riley's home on Gary Lane to say one last good-bye to the Doziers. Kay and Jessie Coronado and Ilene Detten hosted a lively coffee in Betty's honor, thus giving all her friends a grand opportunity to wish Betty and her family the very best in their move to Denton. Lots of delicious goodies contributed to the well-wishing.

JANELLE (JO) DELANEY celebrated her birthday last Saturday with a swimming party at the YWCA. Her friends had a splashing good time and then congregated at the park for refreshment-consuming activities. Jo turned 11 on the 27th. Her dad, Larry, celebrated his birthday on the 28th by letting his wife, Dee take him out for the evening. Many more happy to both of these Delaneys!

HAPPY ARE IN order, too, for Reba Griffin on the 2nd and for Tim Stokes on the 4th.

MEMBERS OF THE Amarillo Art League are busily preparing for its annual presentation of the "Living Pictures." Well-known paintings are reproduced by members on a grand scale and with live models taking the place of the original models in the paintings. These are truly "life-size" paintings, and very, very impressive! A real treat for all art lovers.

THE SOCIAL ACTIVITIES committee will host a "Guest Day

Tea" immediately following the viewing of the living pictures on the 11th of this month. Present plans are to have a silent auction of art and craft items which will be on display during the tea. At the Tuesday meeting at Joyce Thompson's home, Dolores John shared her India art tour trip with league members. Mrs. W. T. Stanberry, Mrs. John and yours served as co-hostesses. Babe Miller is president of the Art League.

GENE HOWE'S LITTLE ol' carpet makers have been at it again. PTA president Ernestine Harp and her helpers have completed three more area carpets for the school. With just a few more to go, this project will soon be behind us. (Then, it's "repair time.")

MEMBERS OF ARTS Unlimited met last week for some scratching good fun. Actually, it was called "scratch art" and Betty Dreesher of Arts and Crafts by Betty demonstrated this creative technique. A special paper is used, whereupon the artist simply scratches or scrapes off part of the paper covering, leaving a design, and therefore, a picture. Easy and fun. Sandy Wait was one of the creating artists participating in the workshop. Not incidentally, Sandy has been named as refreshment chairman of the upcoming Arts and Crafts Show.

THANKS FOR THE use of the hall. But, not for the calls, as they were nonexistent. So, thanks for your patience. Troyce 352-6053.

Sixteen college students entered the West Texas State University Dining Hall recently with an air of self-satisfaction after being nominated for the title of "Woman of the Year" awarded by Associated Women's Students.

The nominees were selected by private campus organizations, residence halls and other groups. Only one of these young ladies would be chosen for the annual award, and Ethel Gooden, Amarillo senior, was the winner. "When they said 'Gooden,' I knew there wasn't anyone else there by that name," she said.

Miss Gooden is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Hayes Gooden of 1605 N.W. 17th in Amarillo.

The 1971 Palo Duro High School graduate entered WTSU the Fall semester of 1971 after attending summer sessions at Amarillo Junior College.

Upon coming to WT, according to Miss Gooden, "I participated in Choral II which sang with Amarillo symphony, and I was president of Mu Phi Epsilon, a professional music sorority on campus. I was also the pianist of a chamber music group."

Miss Gooden is a member of the Mary E. Hudspeth Honor Society and the Alpha Chi (academic) Honor Society for juniors.

"I worked with the Campus Crusade for Christ for two years and at present, I am an administrative board member of the First Methodist Church in Canyon," she said.

The former junior high school violinist is also Commander of the WTSU Angel Corps and is a member of Who's Who for American Colleges and Universities.

Miss Gooden, who has been practicing music for about 15 years, is a music major and has performed in two of WT music department's shows "Fiddler on the Roof" and "Carnival." She is a representative of the Shirley Hall Council and was a member of the former Inter-Residence Hall Council and the House of Delegates.

Other children of the Gooden family include Harvey, a senior at Texas Agricultural and Industrial University, Kingsville; Oscar, senior, and Ravelle, a sophomore at Palo Duro.

According to Miss Gooden, specific duties have yet to be assigned to her title. "I think it's more of an honor award," she said.

When asked what she intends to do after graduation, Miss Gooden replied "I'm thinking about graduate school or of the United States Air Force."

If she decides to enter the service, Miss Gooden will be commissioned Second Lieutenant.

Bufs Enter 2nd Week Of Drills With Pads

West Texas State's football team entered its second full week of spring football drills Tuesday afternoon.

The Buffaloes of coach Gene Mayfield went through a pair of hitting sessions last week and the head coach was pleased with the overall improvement of the defense.

"It is to be expected that the defense will be in front of the offense early in practice, but it is also apparent that the defense has made some progress," said Mayfield after Saturday's two-hour practice session in Frank Kimbrough Memorial Stadium.

The Buffalo coach praised the running of veteran Rick Schleider, who scored one touchdown and rushed for 95 yards, and red-shirt Garvin McCarrell from Pampa.

"Garvin is a bonus to us as we didn't know how well he would do after a two-year layoff," said Mayfield. McCarrell signed with the University of Texas at Arlington two years ago, but came to West Texas without a scholarship instead and had to sit out two football seasons.

Mayfield also praised a trio of former defenders who are now playing in the offensive line — Ted DiBiase of Willcox, Ariz., Don Field of Odessa and Tibby Rogers of Pampa. DiBiase is starting at tackle at present as the Buffs' two returning regulars at the tackle posts are both injured. Jacobi has an injured knee and Lloyd has an injured toe.

"Floyd Jones, Jeff Nunn, Darrell Blades and Bruce Davis all played fairly well on defense in Saturday afternoon's scrimmage," said Mayfield.

Defensive coordinator Leon Fuller was fairly well pleased with his forces after Saturday's scrimmage, but did have some mixed emotions.

Community Education Program To Offer Four Courses

The first of Canyon's new Community Education Program classes will begin April 18, at 7 p.m. Recognizing that intellectual growth continues throughout one's life and that learning is necessary for adults as well as youth, a survey was conducted recently in the Canyon school system to determine what courses would be offered, according to Ken Hart, director of the program.

As a result of the survey, Oil Painting, Interior Design, Cake Decorating and Flower Arrangements for beginners will be offered.

All community education classes are open to persons sixteen years of age or older who can profit by attendance in the classes according to Hart.

All classes except Oil Painting-Acrylic Painting will run for four weeks, two hours each evening.

There will be no classes during school holidays. Child care can be provided by the PTA if a great need is shown through registration, stated Hart.

A certificate will be issued to each student's successful completion of any class and a copy will be sent to a student's employer if requested.

All class fees have been assigned according to the cost of the instruction for a minimum class enrollment according to Hart. All classes are self-sustaining. Fees are payable at registration. Most of the material used in the classes are extra and not included in the registration fee.

According to Hart, courses may be discontinued if attendance drops below an acceptable minimum amount of students for more than two consecutive meetings. All students share an obligation to each other to attend regularly.

Oil Painting-Acrylic Painting will be the first class open to enrollment. The first session will be April 18, from 7 p.m. to 10 p.m. at Gene Howe School. This class will run eight weeks and registration will be $12 per person. Mrs. Charlotte Brantley is the instructor.

This class will be an elementary class in basic techniques of either acrylic or oil painting.

Mrs. E.R. Reeves, who will retire at the conclusion of this school term, is working with two of her first grade students. Mrs. Reeves has taught for twenty-one years in the Canyon elementary school. Following retirement from teaching she plans to enter the real estate business in Canyon.

Mrs. E. R. Reeves Ends Teaching Career

Mrs. E. R. Reeves will conclude twenty-one years of service in the Canyon Public Schools this year. Mrs. Reeves will retire at the end of the year. Following retirement she plans to enter the real estate business in Canyon.

Mrs. Reeves has also served as a teacher in the Gray County area for nine years prior to coming to Canyon. For ten years she was a member of the State Board of Education working with the certification division.

For twenty of her twenty-one years of teaching in Canyon, Mrs. Reeves has taught the first grade. During her first year here she taught second grade. "I have spent 19 years in one room," she states.

Mrs. Reeves states that she is enjoying this year thoroughly. She said that children now are more active and more interesting than in years past.

"I am amazed at the knowledge children have now," observed Mrs. Reeves. She told of one student in her first grade class that is reading on the fourth grade level.

"I think that Sesame Street and other like programs have helped the children," she stated.

Being short in height, Mrs. Reeves recalls a conversation that took place twelve years ago with one of her students.

The student asked, "Mrs. Reeves, how old are you?"

"Eighteen, I guess," replied Mrs. Reeves.

"If you were that old," countered the student, "you would be higher than that."

Mrs. Reeves has one son, Reggie Reeves, who is a local attorney.

Her husband was principal of the elementary school in Canyon prior to his retirement and death. Rex Reeves Elementary School was named for him.

Life At Siesta

The Ladies Auxiliary sponsored a "Welcome Party" Sunday for our new manager. There was a good turnout with, plenty of desserts and refreshments. Mr. Reeves met a good number of people and visited with everyone, while gaining five pounds. After he gave his thanks to everyone and said his farewell, he was seen going out a side door with a heaping plateful of desserts. We chose to let him get by with it.

The Ladies Auxiliary sponsored a dance and refreshments Saturday for the "Teen Clean-up Crew." Over 20 kids were there, and all were VERY active. For the smaller ones, sponsors organized games in the basement. In the near future we will have a band for these gatherings, provided enough sponsors are interested enough to get involved. A few of the Siesta boys have a band organized and we're all looking forward to hearing them play.

MOBILE HOME HINTS

A space-saving idea worth considering — turn your broom closet into a pantry, by just adding shelves. (Doris McKee)

For glass rings on varnished furniture, sprinkle with salt, then rub with a clean cloth dipped in shortening. If the stain has completely penetrated the varnish, it will be necessary to sand and refinish.

You haven't experienced all the frustrations of life until you get two glasses stuck together, neither gentle pressure, violent cussing nor — like marriage — no man can put asunder. Put the bottom glass in hot water and fill the top glass with cold water. They'll come apart quicker than a June bride can say "I do."

MEETINGS

The Ladies Auxiliary will sponsor "Parent's night out" April 20 from 7 p.m. to midnight. $1 for first child, 50 cents each additional, at the rec. hall, for children 12 years and under. We plan on a rec. hall garage sale in the near future. Everyone from Canyon and Amarillo will be welcome to attend. The date hasn't been decided yet. We feel we should wait until the weather is more predictable.

The volunteer fire department has found a fire truck that we'd like to have. The funds are available, but we have to get a building for it before we can bring it here. When everything is all set up, we have several speakers who will come talk to us concerning first aid, necessary action in severe weather, and complete operation of the truck.

FACTS AND FUN

Weather tips: If smoke curls upward and disappears, it will be fair. If smoke curls downward, it will rain. When cumulus clouds become tufted or chaotic like shellbursts, expect rain. Halo around the sun or moon, especially in the summer, predicts the coming of rain. Lightning from the North or Northwest is from a storm that will strike. Lightning from the East or South is from a storm that will usually miss you.

IT'S YOU

If you want to live in the kind of town

That's the kind of town you like.

You needn't slip your clothes in a grip.

And start on a long, long hike.

You'll find elsewhere what you left behind.

For there's nothing that's really new.

It's a knock at yourself to knock your town.

It isn't your town, it's you.

Real towns are not made by men afraid.

Least someone else gets ahead.

When everyone works, and nobody shirks.

You can raise a town from the dead.

And if while you make your stake,

Your neighbor can make one too.

Your town will be what you want to see.

It isn't your town, it's you!

Rotary Awards Applications Now Available

Applications are now being accepted for Rotary Foundation Education Awards for study in overseas lands.

Dr. David Wheeler, dean of the graduate school at West Texas State University, said the applications for the awards are available in his office and in the office of Dr. T. Paige Carruth, vice president for student affairs.

The awards are for the academic year which begins next fall. They are for graduate and undergraduate students in virtually any field of study.

The awards are primarily to promote international understanding, Wheeler said.

Stipends cover the cost of transportation, tuition, fees, books, room and board and limited travel for an academic year.
